Since the release of version 0.96 of ValidateThis, my validation framework for ColdFusion objects, there have been a few bug reports which I have tried to be quick to address. This has resulted in the release of versions 0.96.1 and 0.96.2 of the framework. If anyone has downloaded a copy of 0.96 or 0.96.1, I advise you to grab a copy of 0.96.2 from the RIAForge project page.

I'm hoping that 0.96.2 will be as rock solid as most of the previous releases, and I want to thank John Whish and Matt Quackenbush for bringing the bugs to my attention.
